

4 What do Sources B and C reveal about the uses of houses in Pompeii? 3

Sources B and C reveal the different types of houses used in Pompeii. The atrium houses were basic houses, were the average lived. The main room was the living room ^(e.g. The Nautilus). The next type of house is Atrium Peristyle houses which were slightly more luxurious with a variety. The House of Faun is an example of this house. The next stage of housing were Villas. They were surrounded by luxurious gardens & fountains. The rich lived in these houses. An example includes the Villa of the Papyri discovered by Carl Weber.