

Question 11 (2 marks)

Outline occupational health and safety (OHS) factors that a designer should consider when designing a mass-produced office chair.

2

A designer should consider the hazards of not producing a safe chair. They would have to consider posture, that the user would have to be comfortable, that there ~~so~~ must be no sharp edges and arm rest so the body will not hunch. If Occupational Health and Safety legislations are not met then the chair will not be allow to be distributed.
