Interviewer: Welcome to our today's program! Today, we will be interviewing a very successful business man who have great contributions in his local community. A philanthropist, who is very willing to share a portion of his wealth and time to those who are in need. A ~~figure~~^{role} model for our youth. Please welcome Tim Brown!

Tim: Well, that was a great introduction Sam! It's my pleasure to be here in your wonderful radio program.

Interviewer: Oh! It's our pleasure... So, tell us a little bit more about yourself; your career that may inspire our young men and women to also be highly involved in the community.

Tim: I was born overseas, migrated here in Australia when I ~~then~~ was 15. I started my senior high school in a very low socio-economic area in western Sydney. I enjoyed my Year 12, in particular learning about English as a second language & Module B: Living and working in the community.

Interviewer: Before you share us more about your amazing education and career, can you please talk about ESL's module B and how it helped you as an individual to be succeed?

Tim: Sure! In living and working in the community, we learn several texts that are highly relevant with our lives as a consumer, a worker and most importantly, as a ^{significant} community member, it helped me to become a wider customer ^{and buyer} of goods and services. ~~It also~~ ^{It also} ~~gave~~ gave me an edge in the workplace as we learnt different types of letters such as ~~complaints~~ appreciation, inquiry and application; advertisements, posters and pamphlets; hazard and accident reports. This module highly impacted myself to have a wide as we learnt to create speeches, letters to the editor and ^{letter of} complaint. Indeed, ^{this} ESL's elective formed ~~to~~ me to become a better individual, and ~~establishing~~ ^{established} great foundations for my future.

Interviewer: Surely, this elective exposed you not only to the ^{normal} school environment but also prepared you to be involved in the community and as an employee in the workplace. I wish we had this as our elective when I did Year 12!

Tim: ESL, ultimately living and learning in the community, played a great role in my success, with my previous and current achievements in life. I am very thankful with this opportunity to study about them. It made us think outside the box, enhanced our ~~the~~ creative flair; Also improving our analytical skills. If you do not ask, we also learnt about ^{writing} interview script. I finally realised its ^{use} ~~and~~ in life! When you invited ~~to~~ me to be here, I honestly had to recall what I've learnt in Year 11 and 12!

Interviewer: We could definitely feel the ^{immense} effect of that elective to your life, not just with your long list of achievements as an entrepreneur and as a philanthropist but your skills showed in this interview.

Tim: I would like to express my deepest gratitude to those who recognised my abilities to ^{at least} influence young people and to have a great impact with our community. I encourage everyone to contribute to the society, show what your education taught you in life, just like what being and working in the community helped me.
