

Question 23 (5 marks)

Outline how ONE human right has been legally recognised.

5

The right to education has been legally recognised as it has changed throughout the years. When Education was introduced it used to be something for people who could only afford it. However, throughout the years having an education was becoming demanding in order to get a job or keep up with society, as it required skills and knowledge. Education became compulsory at primary level but later increased to the age of 6-15 was compulsory. Today, everyone needs to have an education as the government made schooling compulsory from the ages 6-17 and is something that many Australian's enjoy.