

- 7 Use your own knowledge and Source C to give THREE reasons why it was difficult to evacuate wounded men from the trenches. 3

During the war, the trenches were a great defence but it had limited size and mobility, this contributed to why the evacuations were difficult, also the sheer number of deaths reduced the room to move, and constant shell firing and general warfare (shooting, grenades etc) were constant causing even the people evacuating the wounded & dead, injury or death.