

Start here

(A) The current health status of Aboriginal people in Australia and the Indigenous people from ~~Area~~^{out} of Australia slowly becoming better as ~~Scientist find out~~^{they are starting} to eat more fresh food ~~what~~^{like} they did before invaded.

The main health problems of the Australian Indigenous people are many have diabetes, suffer from obesity ~~from~~^{by} not eating ~~the~~ right foods, ~~as the should be~~^{high blood pressure from}, drinking all the wrong things, Cancers - most common would be lung cancer from smoking, also throat cancer from smoking, and many more that they suffer from.

The Indigenous people in the international communities suffer from pretty much the same health issues like diabetes, heart problems, cancer, obesity, blood pressure problem as the Indigenous people both Australian and international do not eat the right foods as they should.

Start here.

The health of the indigenous Communities that are international and also Australian are improving alot Since invasion. ~~The~~ Both the Indigenous Communities Survived off the land, growing, ^{catching} and eating their own grown fruits, vegies, nutrients, ect. This means that both Communities would hunt, fish, grown their foods which made them fit and not over weight because if they didn't ~~hunt~~ hunt, they wouldn't eat and feed their families, they didn't eat they would starve and if you starved you would die it was simple.