

Start here.

Australia has achieved a lot of indigenous doctors and nurses. Who have all went through with their HSC and uni they have all come along way in life. But they have all achieved their dreams. A lot of Australian indigenous children are getting good educations, going through with their HSC, uni, etc. Majority of them are doing school and having part time jobs. Australian indigenous people have achieved a lot through out the years and they have still got a lot more yet.

New Zealand's have achieved a lot through out health and education. Studying to be doctors, nurses, and teachers.