

Start here.

The main people that would be unwilling to participate in community consultation would be mainly the elders.

Because they have been around through everything. Through all the racism, when Aboriginals had no rights and all the discrimination.

So many years of hurt and pain so it's understandable if some Aboriginal people are un-willing to reconcile.