

(b) Mabo fought for rights for ten years and it wasn't till a few months after his death was it acknowledged. This made a huge impact among all Australian Indigenous communities. Especially their access to native title.