

Start here.

Vincent Lingiari ~~was~~ is a Elder of the Gurindji tribe and the person who gathered his tribe to ~~the~~ protest for what started as wages then turned into a land claim. This was a claim for his Country back.

~~The importance~~
The importance for ~~Aboriginal~~ people

The importance ~~of~~ Country for the Aboriginal people is today is like it ~~is~~ <sup>was</sup> important for the Gurindji tribe.

Country hold a special connection to the Aboriginal people. It holds their family, their history, their taboos, their sacred sites and it tells the stories of what was.

Country which holds their family
in

Country has a special healing
~~is~~ for the Aboriginal people.

2012 HSC - Aboriginal Studies
Band 3/4
Sample 2 Question 20(a)

~~With~~ Without Country Aboriginal people have nothing. This was shown ~~in~~ in the past when they were disposed and marginalised from their Country.

Being dispossessed from Country Aboriginal people lose a connection, identity, kinship and culture. This makes them alienated from everyone leaving health problems mentally and physically. Due to loss of Country Aboriginal people turn to drugs and alcohol becoming a problem within the community, and family.

Those who have been dispossessed for a ~~very~~ larger amount of time ~~and~~ <sup>and</sup> being showed new Culture and ways makes it harder for them to access native title because of the loss of connection.

However Vincent Lingiari waited 8 years to get land rights

Additional writing space on back page.

him and his people making it the start of land and water rights and & encouraging other Aboriginals to do so as well.

2012 HSC - Aboriginal Studies
Band 3/4
Sample 2 Question 20(a)

← Tick this box if you have continued this answer in another writing booklet.