a) The current health status of Aboriginal people is gradually becoming better and is closer to 'closing the gap' but as the Aboriginal health is improving so non-Aboriginal health. The levels of Indigenous smoking is almost half the population. This means that the levels for lung cancer in Aboriginals is also very high. There is also a very high rate of obesity in Aboriginal urban communities, which leads to higher cardiovascular diseases. But the child obesity levels are also lowering and so is the cardiovascular disease rates in kids. Levels of childhood diabetes has ~~lowered~~ lowered and is only at a $\frac{1}{3}$ of the population. This means if our kids are healthy they will live longer and their kids will hopefully ~~also~~ be healthy and live longer as well.
