

Question 23 (4 marks)

How might the implementation of Australian land capability classification affect the profitability and sustainability of agricultural systems?

4

The implementation of land capability classifications ~~will~~ might affect profitability by restricting the allowance of certain lands because their not suited to their current use or how they will be intended to be used eg running of more livestock to gain more profits but ~~would~~ be affected if lands can't able to be used.