Question 23 (4 marks)

How might the implementation of Australian land capability classification affect the profitability and sustainability of agricultural systems?

The profitability of a farm may be affected by farmers not being able to crop in paddocks where they used to, or not being able to have stock grazing in a paddock that has been classed unsuitable for grazing. However this would improve the sustainability of the land by preventing it from being used beyond its capabilities
