1	Electrolytic Cell, Brine is electrolised, which seperates Na from
	Cl. Because the sodium is Mt, it goes to the cathode, and Chlorine I extracted from the anode. The Wat is then extracted and mixed with water. Nat + the o > NaOH++++
	The hydrogen is extracted as gas and the product remains.
	Nacl -> Nat + 2C/2 The electrolysis of mother
	Nall is and more pure but for more costly.
	In Brine He electrolysis also effets the conter, so energy is lost through cleckolysis of water.
