

Go back to where you came from
Series 1: Episodes 1, 2, 3

The process of discovery involves uncovering what is hidden and reconsidering what is known. Discovery is about finding out ~~about~~ something you never knew about or not agreeing with other people. The prescribed text I'm doing is Go back to where you came from, it is a documentary about six Australians discovering about refugees. The two Australians I'm choosing are Raquel and Adam. My Related text I will be talking about is Remember the titans, which is a film. The film is about the black and white playing a football. The two characters I'm doing are Gerry Berties and Julius Campbell.

In Go back Raquel and Adam both have very strong opinions against the refugees. They both started off with living with two different families. Raquel lived with Africans from Kenya and Adam lived with people who came by boat. Raquel when she first walked in her body language completely changed and the family had made them a traditional lunch, "I'm feeling very intimidated" Raquel had said to Raye with music changing in a close up shot. Adam was with the boat people and first sat down and started to talk to get to know each other. Adam had some very - 16 - strong questions to the refugees. The scene that had stood out the most to me was when they all went to the detention centre visiting the boat people's friend that weren't that lucky to ~~make it~~ ~~out~~ make it out without getting caught. When Adam walked out you could tell by his face that he was confused, shocked and just speechless. "We are just lucky living in a place like we do," Adam said in a long shot with the detention centre sign behind him.

Remember the tians I found was best related because of the difference between the black and white with playing the game of football. The two players I found was best was Gerry and Julius they were both ~~for~~ had strong opinions against each other. As the coaches had decided to take them on a camp to get to know each other and learn to play football ~~for~~ together. For a very long time together and fights ~~known~~ not one could stand down as they didn't like each other. Then after one night a very long run and the coach talking they played a game of football and finally had worked it out "left side, strong side, left side strong side." Gerry and Julius both -17- were saying it to each other as the team had come ~~together~~ together. The one other scene that had stood out as well was when Gerry had been ~~hit~~ ~~by~~ in a car accident and the team had been brought together in the hospital. By then Gerry and Julius had become like brothers and Gerry wanted to only see Julius. As Julius walked in and saw Gerry in the bed and found out he was paralyzed he had wished he went in the car with him. "When you get better we will move out of this neighbourhood, get old, sit together and there will be no more black & white" Julius had said that ~~together~~ to Gerry while he was crying.

From discovering what involves uncovering and what is hidden and reconsidering what is known I had found that the two had fit the best. As it doesn't matter you can judge a book by its cover but once you open it you start to know what really happens.
