

Start here.

Distinctively Visual is achieved ~~through~~ the Shoe Horn Santa through such as: Lighting, positioning of actors and actresses, sounds and the projected image up behind the characters.

Using real footage and photos <sup>which</sup> ~~to~~ helps the story to be told to the audience for them to get the feeling ~~there~~ were there and experiencing the horrors of these women Bridie and Shiela were facing.

Using descriptive words the actresses could play out every single action on stage but also have the events playing in the audience heads.

As the story of it goes on and the actress read there lines the pictures and sound can change dramatically quick almost like being in a movie.

The related text the sendoff includes distinctive by visual imagery by including the description of the environment they are in, "early morning fog in low lit light under the lamp post at the train station".