depending on where you live and the environment around you can effect your health and well-being. If a ~~det~~ disease ~~is~~ is throughout your family it can be passed on to you ~~ate~~ which will effect your health and wellbeing. If you don't live close to a hospital such as living in the bush it may take you a while to receive help if you are in ~~unmmediate~~ immediate danger of becoming ill, but also living this far away would also eliminate your chance of catching any illnesses.
