

Start here.

(a) - The company would have to test the soil of the location they are looking to move to before any relocation takes place.

- They would have to consider if the move is harming the environment in any way - ~~eg~~ eg. cutting down of trees
eg. use of more transport and therefore more pollution.

(b). Structural - Will the company need more employees and therefore more bosses etc?

- Will the company need to hire specialists in ~~order~~ certain fields in order to expand successfully?

Technical - Change of details (phone number, address etc).

- Change of suppliers - will the business need to change their suppliers in order to ~~save~~ save money on transport and expand successfully?

* letting the loyal customers know of the relocation and possibly ~~take~~ take their opinions.

Personnel - Training or retraining of any new staff, this may need to happen when relocating

- Resignation of staff: ~~some~~ staff may, the relocation may not suit some staff and therefore may lose staff.

- Redundancy. Will all existing staff still be needed if looking to expand?

Additional writing space on back page.