

Gives a brief or incomplete description of what is to be achieved.

Statement of intent.

I am planning to design and make an out door park bench.

The bench must be able to with stand the great Australian climates and weather. The bench will have to seat three people, and fit in a space of about three meters long, and about 11 metre wide.

I want the bench to look outback like but still look new.

The weight of the bench does not matter et this stage because it will be transported home in my dads truck.

The cost of manufacture should be an average of about $150 to $200
