

Research

Catalogue Designs

This design is good in that it has a great finish and it has a good look to it but it is too plain.

This one is similar to the picture above but the only thing I don't like about it is that it is too long thus too big and I wanted a small unit.

This is a great design because it has the glass doors a nice size as well as the corner unit design but hasn't got the best of finishes.

This design is a little plain because it is basically a rectangle with doors and a shelf but is a good size for what I'm looking at making.

FINISHES

Matt Finish would be strong and durable but would not have the desired look.

A gloss Finish would look good and have and bring life to its surroundings as well this particular brand is tough and durable