South Australia

South Australia is located in the lower middle of Australia bordering Victoria, Western Australia and the Northern Territory. The capital being Adelaide

Being on the border of Australia, South Australia offers a beautiful contrast of the sea and one of Australia's most renowned winery regions. The Barossa valley wine region offer tourists the ability to take a break from their busy lives and enjoy the vineyards and environment South Australia has to offer.

Located a comfortable distance away from the wine region lies the capital of the wine and relaxation state, Adelaide. The cultural element of Adelaide includes a lot of Europeans as they migrated from the war to find peace in Australia.

Adelaide airport has both domestic and international airports offering tourists the opportunity to fly directly. Within the city busses and trains transport the citizens and allow a comfortable journey throughout the stay.

The capital of South Australia offers events such as sporting and music concerts attracting the likes of many A-listers who enter the country. Weather in South Australia is a similar/cooler climate to neighboring state Victoria and has a clear contrast between 4 seasons.
